Quality woods and inherent value are the important corner stones of our Premium Series. Allow us to demonstrate how guitars are able to manifest sophistication. Introducing the Lakewood custom shop, one might well begin with selection of the relevant tone woods.
Not everyone can handle the power, responsiveness and expressiveness of our D-43 CP Premium. Our dreadnought body shape already offers "more" sound by nature, but the carefully selected Adirondack spruce for the top and the dense Honduran rosewood for the back and sides bring their own exceptional tonal character to our finely tuned construction, creating a sonic force that is hard to surpass. Both visually and tonally, Honduran rosewood ranks among the most exciting tonewoods and stands shoulder to shoulder with the legendary Brazilian rosewood. And "Premium" refers not only to the sound, but also to the craftsmanship. Maple, together with fine abalone purfling strips, creates striking contrasts between the individual woods of this instrument. The Honduran rosewood blends seamlessly into the maple of the Premium rosette. The abalone shimmers beautifully in the light, marks the fret positions with our "Edge" inlay and frames
